Now there's over 1,900 colors in the PANTONE® TEXTILE Color System®

175 more colors

Since our last color range extension in 1998, we have been collecting data, tracking color movements, observing the purchasing patterns of our customers and working with a host of experts from around the globe to address the need for a greater selection of color. The result: 175 new colors added to 1,757 currently in the PANTONE TEXTILE Color System. This comprehensive mix was created to address the crossover in color palettes from fashion, home, architecture, interiors and industrial design. And, from a technical standpoint, we've worked with our dyestuff licensees worldwide to create a new range of reactive dyes especially developed for cotton fibers and fabrics. Gain global color confidence and communicate with ease when you specify color with a PANTONE Reference Number.
